"Go for it. I found my SBLA was very supportive. We used our loan to purchase a commercial cooler—and that's helped us a lot!"

- Beth Traynor, owner and manager of Beth Traynor's à la Carte in Regina

Turning Dreams Into Reality

The SBLA program makes funds available to entrepreneurs through local, community-run associations. They help diversify Saskatchewan's economy and bolster community economic development. Many success stories have their roots in an SBLA loan, with the positive effects reaching far beyond the businesses being helped.

Dream Bigger

To better meet the needs of today's entrepreneur, Enterprise Saskatchewan has raised the loan limit of its SBLA program. New and existing businesses that might have difficulty accessing traditional financing can borrow up to $20,000 from their local SBLA.

Realize Your Dreams

To borrow from an SBLA, contact your local association for program information and application forms. For a list of all the associations and their contact information, please visit www.enterprisesask.ca/sbla-contacts

To establish an SBLA in your area, please contact the SBLA Program Office at sbla@enterprisesask.ca for information and a preliminary review.

"It allowed us to increase inventory and offer customers a greater selection—which is imperative to our success."
